It is closely associated with the tradition of brass band parades, funerals, and street celebrations, where community members would gather to honor loved ones and celebrate life through music and dance.

The term "second line" refers to the spectators and dancers who follow the main parade (the "first line") featuring the brass band. These followers, or second liners, participate actively by dancing, clapping, and sometimes playing percussion instruments, contributing to the overall festive atmosphere.

The tradition of second line drumming is deeply intertwined with African rhythmic patterns, spirituals, blues, and gospel, creating a distinct musical language that has persisted and evolved over generations.

Evolution and Influence

Over time, second line drumming has influenced countless jazz styles worldwide, from traditional New Orleans jazz to modern funk and brass band music. Its emphasis on improvisation, syncopation, and community participation has made it a dynamic and adaptable art form.

Core Elements of Second Line Drumming

Understanding the core elements of second line drumming is essential to appreciating its rhythm, style, and function within the cultural context.

Typical Instruments Used

The traditional percussion setup for second line drumming includes:
